3.1 If the school makes arrangements

Initially, the school will attempt to make arrangements to deliver suitable education for children with health needs who cannot attend school.

- The school's SENCO in liaison with the child's class teacher will be responsible for making and monitoring these arrangements
- The use of remote learning platform (Google Classroom) will be used by school to provide remote education resources.
- The SENCO and class teacher will meet and discuss the plan and expectations around the remote education offering support and resources where appropriate. Every attempt will be made to ensure that the child's link with school is maintained and that opportunities to speak to school / peers via routes such as Google Meet will be explored where and if appropriate.
- When the child is ready to return to school any risk assessments will be completed to ensure the child's safety whilst on site. A phased return will be considered if this is deemed necessary. The school's SENCO will liaise directly with parents and/or medical specialists to ensure that this return is done safely and with the child's best interests at the centre. The child will be included in the decision making if at all possible.

3.2 If the local authority makes arrangements

If the school can't make suitable arrangements, North Yorkshire County Council will become responsible for arranging suitable education for these pupils.

LAs are commissioners of school nurses for maintained schools and academies. Under Section 10 of the Children Act 2004, they have a duty to promote co-operation between relevant partners – such as governing bodies of maintained schools, proprietors of academies, clinical commissioning groups and NHS England – with a view to improving the wellbeing of children with regard to their physical and mental health, and their education, training and recreation. Local authorities and clinical commissioning groups (CCGs) must make joint commissioning arrangements for education, health and care provision for children and young people with SEN or disabilities (Section 26 of the Children and Families Act 2014).

Schools, local authorities, health professionals, commissioners and other support services should work together to ensure that children with medical conditions receive a full education. In some cases, this will require flexibility and involve, for example, programmes of study that rely on part-time attendance at school in combination with alternative provision arranged by the local authority. Consideration may also be given to how children will be reintegrated back into school after periods of absence.

School may decide that they are unable to make the arrangements necessary for a child to have full-access to education, based on the best interests of the child's health needs, they can make a request to the MES.

The MES provide short-term education to help schools and settings to provide continuity in education when a child or young people has been absent from school for 15 days or more due to a physical or mental health need. Schools must notify the MES if a child/young person has 15 days of absence, consecutive or accumulative, due to a medical need and school are unable to offer an education the child/young person can access.

The roles and responsibilities when a child/young person is open to the MES, the Medical Education Service's role is to:

- o liaise with the named person in school;
- o liaise, where appropriate, with outside agencies;
- o be sensitive to the needs of the child and family;
- o provide an education provision with school that the child can access based on information from health;
- o provide regular reports on the child/young person's progress and achievements;
- o provide an opportunity for the child/young person to comment on their report;
- o ensure appropriate course work and any other relevant material is returned to school;
- o work with the school and other services where appropriate to ensure good attendance with the education provision ;
- o attend PREP meetings;
- o help set up an appropriate reintegration programme at the earliest opportunity as soon as the pupil is ready to return to school.

In cases where the local authority makes arrangements, the school will:

- Work constructively with the local authority, providers, relevant agencies and parents to ensure the best outcomes for the pupil
- Share information with the local authority and relevant health services as required

- Help make sure that the provision offered to the pupil is as effective as possible and that the child can be reintegrated back into school successfully
- When reintegration is anticipated, work with the local authority to:
 - Plan for consistent provision during and after the period of education outside the school, allowing the pupil to access the same curriculum and materials that they would have used in school as far as possible
 - Enable the pupil to stay in touch with school life (e.g. through newsletters, emails, invitations to school events or internet links to lessons from their school)
 - Create individually tailored reintegration plans for each child returning to school
 - Consider whether any reasonable adjustments need to be made
